WHAT IS COLLEGE APPLICATION MONTH?

College Application Month is part of a national initiative known as the American College Application Campaign. The American Council on Education started this initiative in 2005 with a single high school in North Carolina. Today, it reaches more than 250,000 schools in all 50 states. North Dakota was the final state to join the initiative in 2014.

The goal of College Application Month is to increase the number of first-generation and low-income students pursuing a college degree or other higher education credential. In addition to applying for college, College Application Month also helps students and their parents learn about the FAFSA and begin that process. With the changes to the FAFSA guidelines that were implemented in 2016, October is a perfect time of the year to conduct these events.

Dear North Dakota College Application Month Site Coordinators:

On behalf of Bank of North Dakota (BND), thank you for hosting a College Application Month event at your schools. We are SO excited that you are providing your students the opportunity to step toward their future plans.

College Application Month is the perfect time for them to apply to the schools they're interested in, start considering the costs, create an FSA ID and strategize with their parents on how they'll pay for education beyond high school.

To help them make decisions that they can be confident in, such as their student loan and career planning decisions, BND offers a variety of tools and information. Students and parents can access these resources at bnd.nd.gov/confident and bnd.nd.gov/collegeresources. Our Regional College Cost Sheet could be a great resource for them during College Application Month. They can access it electronically on our website or you can request printed copies as well.

I'm pleased to be the state coordinator for the College Application Month initiative to increase the number of first-generation and low-income students pursuing a degree or other postsecondary education credential that will lead them to a meaningful career, and to provide them with tools to be confident with their decisions.

This handbook will guide you through planning and implementing your school's College Application Month event. It contains resources and ideas that will help you plan an event that allows all of your seniors to participate no matter where they are planning to go to college next fall.

We greatly appreciate the effort and time you commit to your students and to making this event a success. Please do not hesitate to reach out to me if you have any questions about North Dakota's College Application Month.

Sincerely,

Amanda Woidyla

History of American College Application Campaign

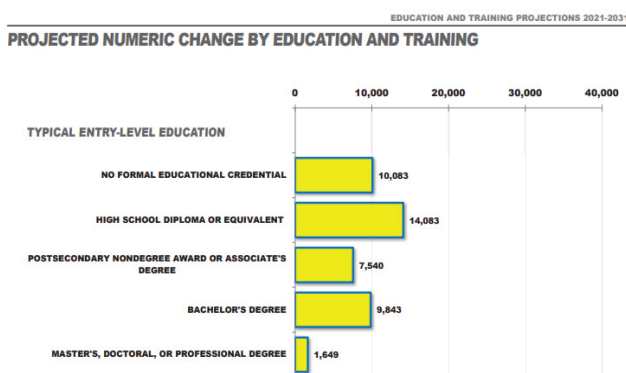

The American College Application Campaign (ACAC) began in 2005 with a single North Carolina high school. Its success spurred other schools to participate. Since 2008, the numbers participating in a College Application program has grown to more than 4,000 schools in all 50 states and the District of Columbia.

North Dakota was the final state to join the ACAC initiative. In 2014, North Dakota University System piloted the program at Magic City Campus in Minot. The following year, three more schools joined the effort: Carrington High School, Central Valley High School in Buxton and Watford City High School.

In 2016, North Dakota University System asked Bank of North Dakota (BND) to partner with them and lead the effort to expand the initiative statewide. The goal is to increase the number of North Dakota students applying to North Dakota colleges, with an emphasis on first-generation students and students from low-income families. Over the past six years, 17,303 students have taken advantage of the $35 application fee that BND pays when a student attends a College Application Month event and applied to a North Dakota college or university!

Benefits of College Application Month

In North Dakota, Job Service's Labor Market Information projects that entry level jobs in North Dakota across all education paths will increase through 2031, including those that require on the job training. Recent data also shows that North Dakota students have one of the highest high school graduation rates in the nation and below average rates for on-time college completion.

We believe this initiative will benefit students by helping them navigate the complex admissions and financial aid process early in the year and benefit the state by developing an educated workforce that is needed for our ever-changing economy.

Implementing a College Application Month event

Each high school will identify a site coordinator, typically a guidance or career counselor or assistant principal, who will be responsible for implementing the program at your site. ACAC and BND has provided resources that can be customized to fit your school's event and the needs of your students.

College Application Month doesn't happen in a vacuum. Most schools are already implementing career exploration and college planning activities throughout the school year and we want this event to complement your efforts. Application events prove to be most successful when students are adequately prepared to submit their college applications.

Every school's event will look different depending on the size of your senior class and how involved you want to get. Some schools plan events that take one day, some plan activities over an entire week or even incorporate college and career planning activities throughout an entire month. You may decide to incorporate elements of college planning in class lessons, have a door decorating contest, or have a college t-shirt day. The options are endless!

As with any event, success is often determined in the planning stages. In addition to the College Application Month activities, site coordinators will also want to consider what students will need to do to be ready to submit their college applications and how you want other teachers and school staff to be involved. If you want to include additional activities for students who's plans don't involve college, BND has some great ideas for you.

Implementing a College Application Month event at your school only has three hard and fast rules:

1. Schedule a time during the regular school day that adheres with guidelines at your school for students to complete their applications.
2. Give all seniors the opportunity to participate.
3. Collect data as requested by the state coordinator.

Some common questions from schools have been:

1. Do I need to host the event during the school day?

Yes. It is the best way to reach all seniors and to have maximum participation, especially with the demographic we are trying to reach: first-generation students and students from low-income families who may not have the knowledge about applying to college or the resources to do so at home.

2. What if my students aren't ready to apply, already applied, or aren't going to college?

"College" can mean any education or job training beyond a high school diploma. Review the Student Instructions resource for additional ideas for ways your students can participate, regardless of their postsecondary plans or where they are at in the process.

3. Do I need volunteers?

It depends! Small schools or schools that have participated for many years may be able to host an event with just the counselor or a small school team to assist students during the application days.

For schools that would like volunteers, BND is happy to recruit college admissions reps, Dollars for Scholars volunteers or even reps from your local bank or credit union to assist your students. Due to the high demand of volunteers on some days, we also may ask you to reach out to your contacts if our volunteer groups are unable to attend your event.

Bank of North Dakota will provide:

- Every school will receive a code to pay for one $35 application fee to any North Dakota college or university during the month of October.
- Digital volunteer resources that each school can use to create custom volunteer packets.
- Statewide media efforts, a press release and an article template which can be customized for your local area.
